

Contracts Rights and Royalties (CRR) helps improve your copyright compliance and effectively monetise your intellectual property though better rights and royalty management. It forms one of three highly configurable content agnostic software modules that make up the Ingenta Commercial suite.

With all the nuances of your contracts understood by the system they're stored in royalty payments become simple with automated calculations and flexible creation of statements including on demand draft copies You can reconcile royalty payments across sales and finance systems and give better service to contributors by offering web portal access to view contracts statements and sales